Directions from London.

From London Take the M1.

Follow M1 to the M6, Follow signs for Birmingham

Then take M54 for Telford. Carry on until you come to the A5, Shrewsbury Road

Follow directions for Llangollen. Come into Llangollen, follow the road to Corwen, and then at a set of traffic lights, take the left turning for Bala. Carry on until you get to Bala on the A4212 (approx 12 miles). Take the right turning as you get into Bala for Trawsfynydd and Porthmadog (A487). Follow the road through Criccieth.

About 2 miles from Criccieth take a right turning for Chwilog and Nefyn (this turning is signposted with a brown tourist sign for Glasfryn Parc). Carry on down the B4354 through Chwilog to Y Ffor where you will come to a crossroads. Turn right in Y Ffor and follow the A499 road for 2 miles taking a right turn for Pencaenewydd and Ancient Monument only after you have passed the brown sign and entrance for Glasfryn Parc which will be on your right hand side.

Directions from the A55 Expressway:

A55, Caernarfon, A499 Caernarfon-Pwllheli main road. 15 miles exactly from Caernarfon, you will come through a village called Llanaelhaearn, and the road will be dead straight for a few miles.

You will pass Glasfryn Fencing Centre on the left; you're very close! Take the next left turn signposted Pencaenewydd/Ancient Monument.

Take the first turning right for Glasfryn Fawr and the second turning left for Glasfryn Uchaf, Coach House & Garden Cottage.

The impressive drive is recently tarmaced, and the lodge at the bottom of the drive is called Drofa

Tan Y Bryn

When you have turned right off the main road towards Pencaenewydd/Ancient Monument, carry on for approx 2 miles until you come to a staggered junction just as you approach Pencaenewydd. Take the turning left for half a mile.

Tan Y Bryn is on the left hand side, up a farm track and over two cattle grids. Just opposite the entrance you will see a mirror half way up a telegraph pole.

The track from the road up to the house is a little rough, but nevertheless accessible by car if care is taken.

Rose Cottage, Coach House and Garden Cottage.

When you have turned right off the main road towards Pencaenewydd/Ancient Monument, take the second turning left: the impressive drive is recently tarmaced.

The lodge at the bottom of the drive is called Drofa.

Drive up the main drive, past the lake, and Rose Cottage is the first property on your right. Please park in the lay-by just before you reach the cottage, under the lavender.

Coach House is just beyond Rose Cottage, please park outside.

Carry on along the lane to Garden Cottage, which is detached and set amidst the trees.

Glasfryn Fawr

When you have turned right, off the main road towards Pencaenewydd/Ancient Monument, take the next turning right to Glasfryn Fawr, bear left on the farm track.

The kitchen door (double door) will be open and the key inside.
